

UN-SEALED PER 2/6/07

Sealed
Public and unofficial staff access to this instrument are prohibited by court order.

United States Courts
Southern District of Texas
FILED

JAN - 5 2007

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
HOUSTON DIVISION

Michael N. Milby, Clerk

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA :
v. :
AIBEL GROUP LIMITED, :
Defendant. :

CRIMINAL NO. _____ UNDER SEAL
INFORMATION
15 U.S.C. § 78dd-3
(Foreign Corrupt Practices Act)

H-07-005

The United States Department of Justice alleges that:

INFORMATION

At all times relevant to this Information:

1. The Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977 (hereinafter, the "FCPA"), as amended, 15 U.S.C. §§ 78dd-1, et seq., prohibited certain classes of persons and entities from making payments to foreign government officials to obtain or retain business or secure an improper advantage. Title 15, United States Code, Section 78dd-3, specifically prohibited any person other than an issuer or domestic concern, while in the territory of the United States, from corruptly making use of the mails or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce in furtherance of an offer, promise, authorization, or payment of money or anything of value to a foreign official for the purpose of obtaining or retaining business for, or directing business to, any person or securing any improper advantage.

Aibel Group Limited and the Vetco Group

2. Vetco International Limited (“Vetco International”) and one of its subsidiaries, Vetco Limited, both incorporated in the United Kingdom, were established in 2003 and renamed as such on or about July 12, 2004 as the parent holding companies for several corporate entities and assets in the upstream oil and gas business that were acquired by a group of private equity entities from a Swiss corporation, ABB Handels- und Verwaltungs AG (“ABB”). The principal entities acquired from ABB included, among others, the former ABB Vetco Gray UK Ltd., ABB Offshore Systems Ltd., ABB Offshore Systems Inc., ABB Offshore Systems AS, and ABB Vetco Gray Inc.

3. After July 12, 2004, ABB Vetco Gray UK Ltd., ABB Offshore Systems Inc. and ABB Offshore Systems Ltd. were renamed Vetco Gray UK Limited (“Vetco Gray UK”), Vetco Gray Controls Inc. and Vetco Gray Controls Limited, respectively. In addition, portions of ABB Offshore Systems AS became Vetco Aibel AS in Norway and other portions were placed in a newly formed United Kingdom company called Vetco Aibel Holding Limited. Vetco Aibel AS and Vetco Aibel Holding Limited were direct subsidiaries of Vetco Limited. On or about December 7, 2006, Vetco Limited was renamed Aibel Group Limited (“AIBEL GROUP LIMITED”), the defendant herein, and another of its current subsidiaries, Drilling Controls Inc., was formed in Delaware with principal offices in Houston, Texas.

4. AIBEL GROUP LIMITED, a foreign corporation, is a “person” within the meaning of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78dd-3(f)(1). AIBEL GROUP LIMITED and its subsidiaries and affiliates were engaged in, among other things, the manufacture and sale of subsea, surface and drilling equipment for the oil exploration and production industry.

The Bonga Contract

5. In or about February 2001, Vetco Gray UK was awarded a contract to engineer, procure and construct all subsea equipment for drilling in connection with Nigeria's first deepwater oil drilling project, the Bonga Project (hereinafter referred to as "the Bonga Contract"). The Bonga Contract was awarded by a joint venture entity established between a private oil company and the Federal Republic of Nigeria.

6. Vetco Gray UK delegated responsibility for managing the Bonga Contract to an AIBEL GROUP LIMITED affiliate, ABB Offshore Systems Inc. (later renamed Vetco Gray Controls Inc., and hereinafter referred to as "Vetco Gray Controls Inc."). Vetco Gray Controls Inc., in turn, assigned management responsibility to its in-house Engineering, Procurement and Construction Group ("EPC Group"), located in Houston, Texas. The primary role of the EPC Group was to interface with the customer and with all goods and services providers.

7. As part of the Bonga Contract, AIBEL GROUP LIMITED, through its principal subsidiary, Vetco Aibel AS, designed manifolds and supplied a portion of the subsea equipment, including umbilicals, from its facilities in Norway. In connection with the Bonga Contract, AIBEL GROUP LIMITED, and its subsidiaries, Vetco Aibel AS and Vetco Aibel Holding Limited, also frequently used their affiliated United States entities, including Vetco Gray Controls Inc., to fulfill its obligations under the contract.

8. Employee A, a Norwegian national, was an employee of AIBEL GROUP LIMITED and its subsidiary, Vetco Aibel AS, who was seconded to Vetco Gray Controls Inc. to work in the EPC Group. From in or about March 2003 through at least in or about April 2005, Employee A was the Project Manager for the Bonga Contract. Employee A was located in Houston, Texas.

9. Employee B, a United States citizen, was an employee of Vetco Gray Controls Inc.'s EPC Group. From in or about September 2002 until in or about April 2005, Employee B was the Logistics Coordinator for the Bonga Contract and was based in Houston, Texas.

10. Each of the Vetco International subsidiaries and affiliates that supplied goods and equipment for the Bonga Contract appointed its own Bonga Deputy Project Manager. From in or about December 2002 until in or about April 2005, Employee C was the AIBEL GROUP LIMITED's Deputy Project Manager. Employee C, a Norwegian national, was an employee of AIBEL GROUP LIMITED's principal subsidiary, Vetco Aibel AS. Employee C was located in Norway. Employee C and other deputy project managers reported to Employee A in Houston and frequently communicated with Employee B regarding shipment of equipment and goods to Nigeria.

11. The Vetco Gray UK operations in Nigeria were located in the Onne Oil and Gas Free Zone (the "Free Zone") that was established by the Nigerian government in Onne Port, Nigeria (hereinafter referred to as the "Onne Base"). From in or about September 2002 to in or about February 2003, Employee D, a Norwegian national, an AIBEL GROUP LIMITED employee, served as an "in country" EPC representative. From in or about February 2003 to in or about June 2005, Employee D was seconded to Vetco Gray UK to serve as an Onne Base Manager. In both of his positions, Employee D often communicated with both Employee A and B to coordinate and manage shipments for the Bonga Contract.

Customs Clearance in Nigeria

12. In connection with the performance of the Bonga Contract by AIBEL GROUP LIMITED companies, goods and equipment were required to be imported into Nigeria. Between in or about September 2002 and in or about April 2005, AIBEL GROUP LIMITED companies and employees used the services of an international provider of freight forwarding and logistics services to transport equipment and materials into Nigeria, and clear them through Nigerian customs (hereinafter "Agent A").

13. The Ministry of Finance of the Federal Republic of Nigeria is responsible for assessing and collecting applicable duties and tariffs on goods imported into Nigeria, and does so through a government agency called the Nigeria Customs Service ("NCS"). Employees of NCS are "foreign officials" within the meaning of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78dd-3(f)(2)(A).

The Services Provided by Agent A

14. In or about as early as September 2002, Employee B, Vetco Gray Controls Inc.'s EPC Logistics Coordinator, learned from representatives of Agent A that Agent A offered certain "unlisted" services, including an "express courier service," in order to expedite the Nigerian customs clearance process. During a telephone conversation, representatives of Agent A explained that goods would be delivered in Nigeria "customs cleared." The Agent A representatives further explained that for this service two invoices would be rendered: one purporting to be based upon the weight of the shipment and another for a "local processing fee" or a similar term. The representatives were emphatic that Agent A would not provide any receipt evidencing any payment of Nigerian customs duties when those “unlisted” services were used.

15. In or about the years 2002 and 2003, an Agent A representative informed Employee B that the express courier service operated pursuant to an “on the side,” “internal” agreement between Agent A and certain unnamed NCS officials. Further, Agent A’s representative informed Employee B that “it was none of [Employee B’s] business how [Agent A would] get it done” and that Employee B did “not want to know” what Agent A had to do.

The Importation of Equipment and Goods into Nigeria

16. Between in or about 2002 and in or about 2004, Employee B, in part for the benefit of AIBEL GROUP LIMITED and its subsidiaries responsible for completion of the Bonga Contract, arranged for equipment and goods to be imported into Nigeria using Agent A’s “unlisted” services. In doing so, Employee B knew that Nigerian customs duties would not be paid to the NCS in connection with such importations and that payments would be made to NCS officials to avoid the payment of any customs duties and to resolve other customs irregularities.

17. In or about the fall of 2002, certain materials from AIBEL GROUP LIMITED’s subsidiary, Vetco Aibel AS, were smuggled into Nigeria without the payment of customs duties.

18. In or about June 2003, Employee D, an AIBEL GROUP LIMITED employee, engaged Agent A to meet with NCS officials regarding the improperly imported goods.

19. On or about October 31, 2003, Employee D, sent an email to Employee A explaining that Agent A could pay a reduced payment to a Nigerians customs official and the payment could be referred in Agent A's invoice to defendants and their co-conspirators as an "evacuation cost" . . . or a direct custom/handling cost."

20. On or about November 3, 2003, Agent A informed Employee D that an NCS official "was insisting on six million Naira [approximately $45,454]" because "more people of customs are involved due to the long time it took to find an agreement."

21. On or about November 4, 2003, Employee D, obtained authorization from Employee A, the Bonga Contract Project Manager, and Employee C, the AIBEL GROUP LIMITED Deputy Project Manager to engage Agent A's services to pay the NCS official.

22. Thereafter, on or about November 4, 2003, Employee D authorized Agent A to pay a NCS official 6 million Naira (USD $45,454) with full knowledge that the total amount of the Nigerian customs duties owed for the improperly shipped materials was approximately 9.8 million Naira (USD $72,000).

23. As of October 2004, Agent A had not been paid for its "service" in avoiding the official Nigerian customs duties, and Agent A's representatives were pressing AIBEL GROUP LIMITED for payment.

24. On or about November 23, 2004, Employee B, in Houston, Texas, received an e-mail from a representative of Agent A which referenced "Manifold Foundations from Ascot Yard – PHC-NGN 6 Mio Customs Duty," the matter for which the 6 million Naira illicit payment had been made, and noted that Agent A had been advised to invoice Vetco Gray Controls Inc. "in Houston for these charges."

25. On or about December 15, 2004, Employee C informed Employee B, by e-mail from Norway to Houston, Texas, that Agent A's charges related to the resolution of the manifolds dispute with customs officials were the responsibility of the EPC Group in Houston. Subsequently, during a telephone conversation between Norway and Houston, Employees A, B, C, and D, among others, decided that Agent A should be instructed to invoice the EPC Group in Houston.

26. On or about December 15, 2004, Employee B, in Houston, Texas, by an e-mail copied to Employees A, C, and D, directed a representative of Agent A to provide a false invoice and request a "receipt" from Agent A indicating that the 6 million Naira payment had been paid to "Nigeria customs." The request was submitted to Agent A because Employee B learned that the AIBEL GROUP LIMITED's customer for the Bonga Contract refused to reimburse Vetco Gray Controls Inc. for any charges from Agent A unless accompanied by official government-issued receipts that reflected payment of Nigerian customs duties to the Nigerian Government. Agent A refused to furnish any such documentation and, on or about April 11, 2005, advised Employee B that "[w]e discussed this now on several occasions. We issued now the invoice as requested by yourself. You know exactly what was done and how all this came together."

27. On or about December 15, 2004 in the Southern District of Texas and elsewhere, defendant

AIBEL GROUP LIMITED

a "person" within the meaning of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, while in the territory of the United States, corruptly did use and cause to be used instrumentalities of interstate and foreign commerce and did cause and caused to be done other acts in furtherance of an offer, payment, promise to pay and authorization of the payment of money to a person, while knowing that all or a portion of such money or thing of value would be or had been offered, given, or promised, directly or indirectly, to foreign officials, for purposes of influencing acts and decisions of such foreign officials in their official capacities, inducing such foreign officials to do and omit to do acts in violation of their lawful duty, and to obtain an improper advantage, and to induce such officials to use their influence with a foreign government or instrumentality thereof to affect or influence an act or decision of such government or instrumentality in order to assist the defendant in obtaining and retaining business or secure an improper advantage for, and securing an improper advantage for, itself and affiliated companies, to wit, on that date an employee of defendant AIBEL GROUP LIMITED in a telephone call from Norway to Houston, Texas, authorized the payment of the invoice to Agent A for the previously authorized payment by Agent A of approximately $45,454 to officials of the Nigeria Customs Service, an instrumentality of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, to assist the defendant AIBEL GROUP LIMITED in securing an improper advantage, all in violation of Title 15, United States Code, Section 78dd-3, and Title 18, United States Code, Section 2.

FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE: DONALD J. DeGABRIELLE, JR.
United States Attorney

By:
JAMES R. BUCHANAN
Assistant United States Attorney

United States Attorney's Office
Southern District of Texas
P.O. Box 61129
Houston, Texas 77208-1129

STEVEN A. TYRRELL
Acting Chief, Fraud Section

By:
MARK F. MENDELSON
Deputy Chief, Fraud Section

By:
STACEY K. LUCK
Trial Attorney, Fraud Section

Fraud Section, Criminal Division
United States Department of Justice
10th & Constitution Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 20530
(202) 514-0819