Heavy Industry

For industrial goods manufacturers that are engaged in international trade and investment, Steptoe & Johnson LLP provides one of the most experienced legal teams available.

In addition to litigating more than 100 trade cases involving antidumping, countervailing duty, Section 337 (Unfair Import Practice), and market-access issues, we have advised a wide range of foreign and domestic clients on major commercial and investment transactions and the increasingly complex regulatory, legislative, political, and legal concerns connected to international manufacturing and distribution.
