Overview
Steptoe’s tax policy team has been involved in tax reform efforts from the early stages, tracking efforts, lobbying for specific provisions, helping clients navigate and understand the impact of the new legislation, and advocating before Treasury for regulations and guidance to help address ambiguities in the legislation. Our team brings together the highest levels of technical tax knowledge, including those who have served in senior-level tax policy positions within Treasury, and top-tier advocacy skills of our government affairs team, who have an extensive network of relationships on Capitol Hill, to advance our clients’ positions.
