With more than 60 lawyers located in Steptoe's nine offices across the globe, our financial services practice regularly engages with financial regulators, key Congressional policy makers, and others who develop and enforce the statutes and regulations that govern the financial services, financial products, and capital markets sectors. As a result, when issues arise, we are poised and ready to act.

Steptoe's financial services capabilities are organized into the following areas of focus:

- Regulatory Compliance and Policy
- Investigations and Enforcement
- Litigation
- Fintech, Blockchain and Cryptocurrency, and Crypto-Assets
- Corporate and Investment Advisory
- Insurance
- Commercial Real Estate Finance

Our clients range from financial institutions, hedge funds, asset managers, issuers of securities and other financial products, financial advisers, insurance companies and intermediaries, futures commission merchants, proprietary trading firms, and commercial hedgers in the derivatives markets, to trading platforms and trade data repositories, blockchain startups, cryptocurrency and crypto-asset businesses, investment funds and venture capitalists. We also represent corporate officers and directors, as well as individual executives and traders.

In today's environment, we recognize that innovations often outpace existing rules or regulators' understanding. Effective representation requires an informed view as to how to comply and, where appropriate, to seek clarification or relief from outdated or onerous rules through interpretations, rule changes or, if necessary, rule challenges. Our capabilities extend beyond knowing the rules. Clients benefit from our ability to provide a comprehensive yet efficient approach to resolving their business issues by marrying technical knowledge with practical experience and regulatory insights.

Members of our team bring decades of experience working in senior regulatory positions and practical, hands-on experience representing clients in matters involving commodities, derivatives, and securities markets regulatory and enforcement matters. Our team includes former commissioners and senior staff of the CFTC and FERC and former senior staff from the SEC and FINRA. Several members of our team previously held senior level positions at the CFTC, including acting chairman and commissioner, directors of the CFTC Divisions of Market Oversight and Swap Dealer and Intermediary Oversight, and a litigation and regulatory attorney in the Office of the General Counsel. Our financial services capabilities also include the insights of former officials at the Departments of Justice, Treasury, and Homeland Security.

Our team has been involved in all aspects of financial regulation and, most recently, in financial regulatory reform, including legislative advocacy, statutory enactment, and subsequent rulemaking and enforcement actions across the securities, commodities, and derivatives industries, as well as insurance, and commercial real estate finance. We represent clients through all stages of the rulemaking process, rule interpretations, registration of new regulated entities, compliance, investigations, enforcement, and litigation. Our team has also been at the cutting edge of blockchain, cryptocurrency, and cryptoasset issues, with a dedicated blockchain and cryptocurrency practice that includes a focus on financial regulatory issues.

Clients also benefit from our insights gained as senior in-house counsel and executives within financial services companies and leading industry associations. Drawing on these experiences, we are able to overlay our deep understanding of regulatory law with knowledge of market dynamics and industry insights, which is critical to helping clients navigate the changing regulatory environment.

Our group also includes nationally-recognized trial lawyers and litigators, who regularly represent global and domestic financial institutions, financial brokerage firms, private funds, and proprietary trading firms. Our experience ranges from securities and shareholder litigation to follow-on putative class actions often inspired by enforcement actions as well as complex business disputes in the financial services industry.
Our team of lawyers in the US help clients effectively and efficiently manage regulatory and enforcement matters across a spectrum of federal and state regulators in the United States, including the:

- Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)
- Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC)
- Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA)
- National Futures Association (NFA)
- Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC)
- US Treasury Department
- Federal Reserve Board of Governors
- Federal Reserve Bank of New York
- Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB)
- National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC)
- Financial Stability Oversight Council (FSOC)
- Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC)
- Federal Insurance Office (FIO)
- Department of Labor (DOL)
- Other regulatory and self-regulatory entities

Steptoe’s lawyers in London and Brussels are involved with financial regulatory reform in the UK and European Union. This involves interaction with the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) in the UK, the European Commission, the European Parliament, the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA), and multilateral organizations such as the Financial Stability Board (FSB).

In Asia, our team of lawyers assist financial institutions with regulatory compliance related to FCPA, ITAR, EAR, US sanctions, and OFAC regulations. In addition, we advise clients on matters related to corporate governance, including D&O risks and liabilities, as well as white-collar defense of international laws.

Corporate & Investment Advisory

Primary Contacts: Luis Fortuño, Scott Fisher, Will Turner

With practitioners in Washington as well as financial hubs such as New York and Chicago, our corporate practice adds substantial financial regulatory strength. We advise clients on all aspects of public and private securities offerings, including compliance with the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Investment Company Act of 1940, and the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. We also represent investment funds and their advisors in formation and offerings, as well as ongoing commercial and compliance obligations.

Our lawyers regularly work with corporations and their boards, investment funds, and individuals in connection with complex, large scale securities law and governance matters, and have experience in all stages of the investment cycle – from fund formation and limited partner investments to initial public offerings and ongoing public company representation and reporting.

Insurance

Primary Contact: Scott Sinder

In our Financial Services practice, we represent insurance carriers, agents and brokers on a wide range of public policy matters at the federal and state level. On behalf of our insurance clients, Steptoe engages regularly with Capitol Hill offices and federal regulators at FSOC, FIO, HHS, DOL, and Treasury, as well as state insurance commissioners, the NAIC, and the National Council of Insurance Legislators (NCOIL). Our work spans various lines of insurance (surplus lines, property/casualty, life and health), licensure issues, international insurance issues, employer-sponsored health insurance design and compliance issues, and tax policy.

Within these areas, we assist clients at the legislative and regulatory levels – from drafting and passage of legislation through the rulemaking process, including litigation challenging process outcomes where appropriate. We also represent clients in post-enactment compliance work and in the ongoing re-evaluation of laws and regulations before Congress, state legislatures, and the pertinent federal and state agencies. This beginning-to-end suite of services includes work on landmark pieces of legislation and regulatory efforts like the Patient Protection & Affordable Care Act, Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform & Consumer Protection Act, Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, multiple model acts and regulations at the NAIC and NCOIL, and "best interest"/fiduciary rule proposals at the Department of Labor and the SEC, among others.

We also represent large insurance carriers, US companies, and brokerage firms in matters before state insurance regulators, including in multi-state investigations and enforcement actions.

Commercial Real Estate Finance

Primary Contact: James Carolan

We also have extensive experience in commercial real estate finance. We work with a broad range of stakeholders in the industry to help ensure that Congress and the federal financial regulators, via their laws and regulations, promote liquidity and robust commercial real estate finance markets. Our work in this space includes advising and advocating on risk retention for commercial mortgage-backed securities, tax policy, capital rules, and other prudential standards under the Dodd-Frank Act and the Basel III framework.
Representative Matters

Legislative Advocacy

- Launching and organizing several financial services trade associations, guiding them through their formative stages, and establishing ongoing working relationships with key members of Congress and regulators.
- Advising and advocating on behalf of a major financial market infrastructure utility on numerous matters, throughout the development of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act) on issues related to swap data repositories (Title VII) and financial market utilities (Title VIII).
- Assisting a trade association of wholesale market brokers in developing overall legislative and regulatory strategies, and assisting in responding to legislative inquiries and drafting legislative testimony related to issues such as over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives regulatory reform, derivatives trade execution, financial market regulatory oversight, and systemic risk oversight.
- Providing technology company focused on cognitive computing and holistic surveillance with strategic counsel encouraging policymakers to modernize regulatory surveillance requirements in line with current technological capabilities.

Regulatory Advocacy
